We had another fungal bloom last month the same day that these guys cleaned! Where do the mop heads come from? Do they come directly from their truck? Do they treat them, spray them before bringing them into ante-room? Looks like they just toss on the floor without treating before they gown up. Are we certain that mop-handle + bucket are clean? If so then only source is the mop-heads if they are bringing them in. I'll bet their truck is overloaded with fungus!!! If this is the problem then I want them to mail the mopheads to us before and we can clean them + leave in ante-room. The pharmacist who is baby sitting still must watch them closely and alter their methods……I do not think this is happening 100% of time
